Together we will find the right IT specialist for you

We provide: Fast support for your IT project

Do you need support from a freelance IT consultant for your IT project in the short or medium term, but time and resources for the search are scarce? Put this task in our hands: We have many years of experience in the placement of highly qualified IT experts in almost all areas of IT business and digital transformation. On a project basis, we bring the necessary technical manpower to your company via service contract, for which we can draw on our extensive network of specialised consultants.

Depending on size, development and planning horizon, companies have different needs structures and internal processes as well as requirements in personnel recruitment are as individual as the company itself - we have developed a deep understanding of this in our daily placement practice. We have experience at all management and decision-making levels as well as a profound knowledge of the market: we know about short-term trends as well as long-term developments and can offer our clients the latest know-how at any time with the greatest possible flexibility.

Does your company belong to the IT system houses, software manufacturers and IT service providers? We also have an interesting offer for you: If parts of your staff are not working to capacity or cannot be deployed internally for a transitional period, we will place them in companies with current order peaks or staff shortages from our network. Contact us and we will work out an optimal solution model with you to deploy your IT experts externally for the benefit of all. Comprehensive mutual customer protection is a matter of course for us.

Our placement experience for your best project partner

Fast and targeted: our recruitment and placement system

We are a specialised personnel service provider for the placement of highly qualified experts in the entire IT sector. Our focus is on German-speaking countries (DACH region) and we see ourselves as independent of industries and manufacturers.

In our more than 15 years of placement experience, we have developed our own recruitment system, which we are constantly improving and adapting to changing market requirements. This system enables us to react particularly quickly to customer enquiries and to provide our freelance experts with all relevant project data immediately - this is what highly effective personnel placement looks like for us.

For our corporate clients, this means: we recruit a freelance IT professional from our network to fill your project with the perfect fit, you conclude a service contract with your new freelancer (contracting) and successfully move your project forward with professional support.

For our freelancers, this means: minimal search effort for your next project assignment and the security of knowing that we will manage you for your client throughout the entire project assignment.

For both partners, entrepreneurs and independent experts, we achieve that they can rely on a professional, coherent and successful cooperation.
